

March 8, 2023

Reference for Ron Price

I met Ron Price on a weekend trip to Farmington, NM. Ron has a magnetic, warm, and engaging personality. His Play Nice trilogy discusses conflict resolution skills for home, church, and workplace. The chapters are short, but full of helpful quotes and practical advice. Ron shares a biblical world-view without being preachy. I found reading Ron's books to be refreshing, like drinking a glass of sweet-tea on a summer evening. I asked Ron to share his material for one of my classes at Southern Adventist University on interpersonal communication skills. The students found his presentation to be delightful. I highly recommend Ron's books and recommend him as speaker for your church, school, or organization.

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "David L. Hartman".

David Hartman

Professor of Applied Theology
School of Religion
Southern Adventist University