

To Whom it may concern,

Ron came and presented to our staff meeting one Monday evening. I must admit that I did not think that our staff would be interested and stay for the whole presentation. But I was pleasantly surprised. Ron is an engaging speaker that uses humor to keep his audience engaged. The material that he presented was valuable for relationships of all kinds, within the workplace, families, friends and acquaintances. He presents practical ways in how to diffuse conflict with Biblical examples.
